

THE SAN FRANCISCO GRAND JURY.

The case of Assemblyman Bruner of Sacramento, indicted by the San Francisco Grand Jury for accepting bribes while in the Legislature, came up before the Supreme Court of California yesterday. Bruner applied for a writ of prohibition to restrain Judge Wallace of the Superior Court of San Francisco from proceeding under the indictment found by the Grand Jury against Bruner. J. C. Campbell, attorney for Bruner, argued that Judge Wallace had no authority to appoint an elisor unless there was further proof that the Sheriff and Coroner were disqualified. The point that the alleged malfeasance occurred, if at all, at Sacramento and not in San Francisco, where Bruner was indicted, was also raised by him.

Attorney Rhodes for the State opposed the petition for the writ, claiming that Judge Wallace had legal discretion to order an elisor to summon the Grand Jury.

Evidently from the manner in which Bruner, Buckley and bidders and bosses fight the indictments they dread the result if tried by honest men, such as Elisor Halliday has summoned to try them, and rely on technicalities to escape the penalties of their misdeeds. If juries chosen by officials who owe their positions to the bosses are permitted to pass upon their acts they have no fear of the consequences, hence their appeals to the Supreme Court to declare the manner in which Judge Wallace has juries selected illegal.

FLOWER A SILVER MAN.

The Salt Lake Tribune, which does not agree with its party east of the Rocky Mountains on the silver question, is disposed to favor Flower for President, though it is edited by Judge Goodwin, a dyed-in-the-wool Republican. It says: "Through all the campaign at home and abroad Mr. Flower has been underestimated. He is very considerable of a man, and his election has this redeeming grace to Western Republicans, he is absolutely solid, and his ideas are absolutely correct on the silver question, and he is in just the place where he ought to be able to do the cause of silver a great deal of good."

Mr. Flower, when in Congress, voted for free coinage, and the platform which he endorsed and on which he was elected denounced the Sherman Silver Commodity Act and declared for bimetalism. If he is, as the Tribune represents him, absolutely correct on the silver question, he is just the man for the Democrats to nominate for President, as, unlike Cleveland, he can carry New York, where he has proved himself as strong in the country as in the city.

NEW YORK TRYING THE RAIN MAKER.

New York City is threatened with a water famine. Dry weather prevails, and the streams and springs which supply Croton Lake, from which water for the city is obtained, are drying up. Sprinkling the streets has been prohibited, fountains in the parks and in private grounds have been stopped and everything possible is being done to prevent the reservoirs from being emptied. In this emergency it occurred to the New York World to invite General Dyrenforth, the Government rain maker, to take his balloons and explosives from Washington to the Croton aqueduct and try to produce rain. General Dyrenforth has accepted the proposition, the World agreeing to pay all expenses, and he expects to make his experiments today and to-morrow.

Should the experiments prove successful and New York be visited with copious showers at this critical juncture, the World will have immortalized itself, and the ability of scientists to produce rain when necessary will be satisfactorily established.

A rebellion against the authorities has broken out in China. The rebels, 15,000 strong and well armed, have captured Tchi-wei. So far as known, the rebels are not molesting foreigners, though it is feared that they will. The officials are powerless, and foreign residents are apprehensive of a spread of the revolt. It is said that the Chinese dislike the Tartar dynasty now in power and only await a favorable opportunity to overthrow it.

It seems that the mustache was a political issue in the late State elections. The Springfield Republican calls attention to the fact that in New York, Massachusetts, Ohio and Iowa the gubernatorial candidates who wore mustaches were defeated, while those who were elected had clean upper lips.

Sunday evening the full moon rose in the East totally eclipsed by the shadow of the earth. When a thin crescent of the moon became visible it was remarked by persons who had forgotten the eclipse, that they never before saw a new moon make its first appearance in the East.

The Knights of Labor.

TOLEDO, November 16.—In the Knights of Labor general assembly to-day the first business was the consideration of the resolutions presented by the World's W. O. T. U. and the National W. O. T. U., those demanding equal pay for equal work for women, woman suffrage, and the same standard of purity for men and women were at once agreed to. A resolution demanding the closing of the World's Fair on Sundays was rejected. The Knights declared in favor of having the fair open Sundays for the education of the masses, provided no one employed at the fair shall work more than six days per week. The assembly declined to endorse a resolution for the prevention of the sale of liquor on the World's Fair grounds.

The San Francisco Grand Jury.

SAN FRANCISCO, November 16.—Foreman Henley of the Grand Jury appeared before Superior Judge Wallace to-day and stated that Richard Chute and Edgar Raymond, who were cited for contempt of court for refusing to testify before the Grand Jury on the ground that the body was not legally impaneled, had reconsidered their determination since the Supreme Court had decided that prospective witnesses could not impeach the loyalty of the jury and that they have since responded to the summons of the Grand Jury to appear and testify. Judge Wallace thereupon dismissed the sentences for contempt pending against them. The case of Stephen Gage, also charged with contempt, is still pending.

Jackson and Slavin to Fight.

BOSTON, November 16.—The National Sporting Club of London, through its American agent, Capt. Cooke of Boston, has offered a $10,000 purse and $500 for expenses to Peter Jackson to fight Slavin, but the fight must come off during Derby week in June. Jackson will probably accept the latter condition as the others are acceptable to him. The California Club is desirous of having the fight in this country and offers a purse of $12,000, of which $10,000 goes to winner and $2,000 to loser.

Destructive Fire in San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, November 16.—The Pacific Cleaning and Dyeing Works, together with Spaulding's carpet factory, and three frame dwellings, were destroyed by fire this afternoon. A number of small buildings were badly damaged in addition to those consumed. The loss is estimated at $50,000; insurance $20,000.

STOCKTON, November 16.—The weather was fine to-day and Marvin started his horses but did not lower their records. Palo Alto trotted a mile in 2:10½, one second slower than his record. He made a fine race but broke twice which lost him the mark he was sent for.

His quarters were 0:32 1-5, 1:04, 1:37½, 2:10½. Marvin may start him again to-morrow. Bell Bird, the yearling, was sent against her mark, 2:26½, but broke four times. She made 2:32. Fausta, a Sidney yearling by Sidney, trotted in 2:40.

D. S. Lundy Killed.

SAN JOSE, November 16.—At the inquest to-night in the case of Daniel S. Lundy, who was found dead near his team on the Mt. Hamilton road, this morning, the verdict was that he came to his death by being thrown from the wagon by a telephone wire, which had fallen partly across the road, and accused the telephone company of criminal negligence.

RENO TO LAKE TAHOE.

Distances and Grades on the Proposed Road.

Surveyors Stewart and Gould who have made a preliminary survey of the proposed new road from Reno to Lake Tahoe have completed maps of the route showing the distance and grade. The road leaves the valley at Haffakers and the distances and grade are given as follows:

Distance.	Grade per 100 feet.
Reno to Haffakers 1.400	6.00
Haffakers to White's Canyon 4.70	10
White's C. to Galena Creek 2.80	10
Galena Creek to Snow Lake 2.90	10
Snow Lake to Summit 3.30	8
Summit to Grass Flat 2.1.28	8
Grass Flat to Exclamation Pt. 1.20	10
Exclamation Pt. to Pine Flat 1.90	10
Pine Flat to Incline 3.35	10

Total distance from Reno to the lake, 25½ miles. Galena Creek furnishes good fishing, brook trout being abundant in the stream, and the road passes within two miles of the summit of Mount Rose, which furnishes a grand view of the country for hundreds of miles in every direction.

There is a natural road a considerable part of the distance which will require but little grading, and some five miles of the road is in good timber. There is a fine view of the lake from Exclamation Point to Incline, the descent being ten feet in a hundred for four miles. The scenery from Snow Lake to Tahoe is picturesque and the view from the surrounding country unsurpassed. Carson, Walker, Humboldt and Pyramid Lakes are plainly visible and from Mount Rose eighteen or twenty lakes can be seen with a field glass.

COLLISION AT TRUCKEE.

A Locomotive Enveloped in Blazing Oil and an Engineer Injured.

The Truckee Republican of Saturday last says: The Samson was backing a car loaded with coal oil down the side track opposite the freight depot at 4 o'clock this afternoon.

The engineer could not see that No. 10 was coming in from the east, and the hind end of the oil car did not quite clear the main track when engine 98 dashed into it. One corner of the car was carried away but it wrecked the engine pretty badly, breaking a cylinder head, the tank and demolishing the cab. To cap it all, the contents of about twenty cans of oil was splashed all over the engine and cars and instantly caught fire. McKay's fire department, Hose Company No. 1, the Sampson and the freight depot hydrant all turned on streams of water before the flames were subdued. Engineer Arthur York was knocked from his engine, breaking his leg in two places near the ankle. Fortunately the car containing the oil was hauled away from the fire in time to escape the flames. Fireman Feathers jumped from the engine and escaped unhurt.

THE EPISCOPAL ENTERTAINMENT.

New and Novel Features for the Occasion.

On the evenings of the eighteenth and nineteenth, Wednesday and Thursday, the ladies of the two Episcopal Guilds will give entertainments for the benefit of the pipe organ fund. The ladies have worked assiduously in perfecting their arrangements, so as to surprise the natives, new and novel features have been hunted up, and originated especially for the occasion. Each evening will be profuse with an elaborate programme, and booths with new novelties will be one of the greatest features. The old hackneyed grab-bag and postoffice have been consigned to the realms of oblivion, and the booths will consist mainly of stalls representing a grand Turkish bazaar, in which the handsome attendants will be dressed in costumes, both becoming and appropriate to the booth, they have in charge.

The first evening's programme will consist of Father Time's reception, a number of tableaux, representing the natal and holidays of the year, as well as many ludicrous and affecting scenes taken from the masterpieces of some of the most celebrated artists.

The second evening's programme will open with a grand promenade concert, followed by dancing, and everything will be done to make it enjoyable and profitable for all patrons. Every one will get value received for their money, besides contributing to a cause that is at once praiseworthy and a credit to the community.

HAMILTON VS. THE S. P. COM.

History of the Case—Points Involved and Verdict of the Jury.

The history of the case of Asa M. Hamilton vs. the Southern Pacific Company, being an action for $100,000 damages, which was brought to a close in the United States Circuit Court at Carson last Saturday by the jury finding a verdict for plaintiff for $44,750, is briefly given by the Virginia Enterprise as follows:
October 11, 1888, a person unknown in the case, bought a ticket at Omaha, Nebraska, for a passage over the U. P., C. P. and connecting line to San Diego, Cal. This person rode on this ticket to Denver, Colorado. There he sold his ticket—being a first-class unlimited, unassigned ticket to a ticket broker for $52. About the 23d of January, 1889, the plaintiff, Hamilton, bought this ticket of a scalper for $60, and started West on his way to settle up his father's estate at Portland, Oregon, but intending to touch San Francisco on his way. The U. P. conductors recognized his ticket as good, though unassigned, and he got a section in a Pullman sleeper on the strength of it.
By way of explanation it is well here to state that a railway association composed of the U. P., S. P., C. P. and many other roads, met in St. Louis in 1884, and agreed to honor a certain form of ticket which they adopted, and which they issued to the several companies to sell. Among the many requirements printed on the ticket adopted, it is necessary to state only the one over which the controversy arose, and that was that the ticket should be signed by the original purchaser.
To resume the thread of the story: At Ogden, being the starting point of the C. P. westward, for the first time Hamilton was taken to task about his ticket. There the agent told him he would have to sign or he would have trouble with the conductor. Hamilton replied that he had had no trouble so far, and it would be time enough to consider the matter when trouble came. On the train, Conductor Lutz asked him to sign the ticket, pay his fare at local rates or get off the train. Hamilton refused to act. At Wells Conductor Case repeated the same performance with him but to no purpose. At Winnemucca Conductor Derbyshire "went for him," he must sign, pay local fare or get off, and showed him a dispatch from Passenger Agent Goodman to "treat passenger as if he had no ticket." The passenger was immovable. At Rye Patch Derbyshire and Brakeman Grant seized him by the collar, nape of the neck and wrists and tugged at him three or four minutes, but failed to budge him. Then they sent for the Saratoga trunk smasher. Before that gentleman made his appearance, Hamilton took a pistol out of a valise as the best means to stand that worthy off, and when the conductor returned with his force he lost stomach for the job. At Lovelocks, Hamilton was snaked out and handcuffed by officers of the law at the instigation of the company. There he was kept five days, during which he answered to the charge of assault with a deadly weapon, and was acquitted. Many minor matters are omitted in the above statement of facts—about which there is a slight disagreement.
The questions that arose for consideration were: In what capacity did the U. P. act in selling that ticket? Was Hamilton rightfully on the train? Was the regulation requiring the signature of the passenger reasonable? Was he ejected from the train and arrested for not paying his fare or for drawing a deadly weapon? and was he arrested by the corporation defendant or by the peace officers?
J. H. McMillan and Wm. Woodburn for plaintiff, presented their views on these questions with a minutia of details that left nothing for conjecture, and the authorities they gave on the subject occupied a full day. The jury certainly took their view of the case.
For the defendant, Messrs. Baker & Wines showed that plaintiff's authorities did not apply to the case at bar, and they also took a full day.
The Court held, and instructed the jury, that the U. P. acted as the special agent of the S. P. in selling the ticket, and not as a general agent; that the ticket held by plaintiff was a first-class unlimited ticket, but that the regulation requiring the signature of the passenger was a reasonable one, and that therefore the conductor had the right to put the passenger off the train, using only such force as was necessary to do so if he failed to comply with such reasonable regulation.

The Judge left no doubt but that the officers acted as the special agents of the defendants when they made the arrest.
The jury retired to consider their verdict at 2:15 P. M. yesterday, and at 3 they returned into court with a verdict for plaintiff, and taxing the company to the tune of $44,750 in the way of repair for damages sustained.
Counsel for defendant asked a stay of execution for ten days, to permit them to file a bill of exceptions and motion for new trial. This matter having been agreed to by stipulation, the grounds were not stated but the motion will doubtless be made on the ground that the verdict and the instructions of the Court are irreconcilable.

Hot Griddle Cakes.

Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder possesses a peculiar merit not approached by that of any other baking powder. It produces the hot buckwheat, Indian or wheat cakes, hot biscuit, doughnuts, waffles or muffins. Any of these tasteful things may be eaten when hot with impunity by persons of the most delicate digestive organs. Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder leavens without fermentation or decomposition. In its preparation none but the purest of cream of tartar, soda, etc. is used, and in such exact equivalents as to always guarantee a perfectly neutral result, thereby giving the natural and sweet flavor peculiar to buckwheat and other flour that may be used, the natural flavor so much desired and appreciated by all. The oldest patrons of Dr. Price's powder tell the story, that they can never get the same results from any other leavening agent, that their griddle cakes, biscuits, etc. are never so light and never taste so sweet or so good as when raised with Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder.

A Telegraph Operator's Kindness.
"It isn't often that a telegraph operator stops to think of the message he receives or sends," said an old operator. "They are all of a size to him. But I remember one night during the late war I felt my eyes moisten—yes, moisten—as I read the following to Senator Fessenden. 'My son is sentenced to be shot tomorrow morning at 6 for sleeping at his post. Will you kindly see President Lincoln at once and intercede till I can reach Washington to present evidence which will clearly prove my son's innocence?' I knew that if the message was compelled to wait its turn it would not reach Senator Fessenden till too late for any hope of reaching the president, to say nothing of getting a reprieve sent to the line of battle where the son was."

"I said to myself: 'Here is a human life hanging by a thread. Shall I cut the thread by letting the message take its turn?' No, I couldn't. I violated the rules and telegraphed the solemn message to all the hotels in Washington till the senator was found and the message safe in his hands. Word came back that Senator Fessenden had obtained the reprieve, and I telegraphed the glad news to the poor old man up in Maine."—Lewiston Journal.

A Dugout Home in the Southwest.
Into the face of one of the low vertical earth walls of the broken land the homemaker cuts a hole as a Yankee farmer digs a cellar for a hillside barn. Though rarely larger than 10 by 14 feet on the bottom, these cell-like holes are sometimes 12 by 18, with the depth of the hole as much as 5 or 6 feet, and sometimes 18 by 16 large, with the long way of the hole lying along the front of the natural earthen wall.

The digging completed, trees are cut to furnish logs for building up the front of the home, and for use as rafters, placed a foot or so apart over the top. The limbs of the trees, with some long grass from a moist place, if any can be found, are used to make a rude thatch over the rafters, and then the sods, cut out and carefully saved when the hole was dug, are placed on top of the thatch, while the earth from the hole is heaped on top of all into a grave-shaped mound. A blanket is hung in the doorway, or the cotton from the wagon hoops will serve, and there is the dugout home as cozy as the home of a prairie dog or a woodchuck.—John R. Spears in Scribner's

Dr. Charles Macrum, of Portland, Ore., is authority for the statement that the canvasback duck can fly two miles a minute and continue this speed for hours. The mallard duck travels a mile a minute.
